We are home!!! It's a whirlwind of mixed emotions being here - nothing feels the same, yet it is. Baby Nicholas slept through the whole flight so it was an easy trip for him and I. It was so great to see Christian running into the airport to greet us. Even though it's temporary, it's good to be with my family - all of us together again.

Deanna stopped by today to see Baby Nicholas - above is balloons and below is a gift from the Sienkiewicz Family - Thank You!!!

We ask that our friends say a special prayer for Kendal and for Ryken, Kendal is at U of M fighting AML Leukemia and Ryken is at St Jude and with a brain tumor called ATRT - both of our dear friends need their chemo's to be effective and both need prayers for true miracles.
