

August 28,2010

Written by NickyBear's Momma

Friday, 27 August 2010 22:28 - Last Updated Wednesday, 01 September 2010 22:34

Tonight there was a special event at our housing and was closed to the public and was for the families of St. Jude. Christian Artist Amy Grant performed live with her band right here on the property. As a child I danced my whole life but every solo I did was to one of Amy's songs and I was always dressed in white. It's weird how her music has always been part of my life and that through this we met her.