Wow waking up with no treatment - I feel a little lost today but thankful to be done. Nick and my Dad are flying in tomorrow - my Dad is leaving Saturday to drive my car home and Nick and I will fly out Sunday to go back to St. Jude for our week of testings. Focusing on God - my heart is filled with anxiety.

We went to lunch with Auntie Nicole (Baby Wade's Momma) and Lauren (her Daughter and my adopted niece)- it was so good to see them before heading back to St. Jude.
